(IN 48044)

1. In reference a I proposed that we discontinue the regularly scheduled teletype conferences. In reference b you indicated these telecons had been of value to the Office of Current Intelligence and the Office of Scientific Intelligence as well as their counterparts in the [redacted] Station and suggested that before any action was taken the [redacted] Station be consulted.

2. On 6 April we sent a cable to the [redacted] Station (ref. c) and now have a reply to the effect that these telecons are not a necessity but the Station would like to maintain one session each Tuesday of two hours duration.

3. Considering the [redacted] Station's reply and in view of the critical shortage of Communications personnel and the increasing number of high priority requirements placed upon the Office of Communications I do not believe we can justify these telecons, and, therefore, recommend that you reconsider your previous position and concur in the attached proposed cable to the [redacted] Station.

4. The Deputy Director (Plans) previously concurred in the discontinuance of these telecons.
